MEMO - CRPO Update August 2013

1st step in Applying for College Membership

Professional Practice & Jurisprudence e-Learning Module is now available and can be completed online.

The module is intended for prospective members of the new College of Registered Psychotherapist of Ontario - CRPO.

Successful completion of the Professional Practice & Jurisprudence e-learning module is the first step in the registration process for all applicants for registration, including those applying via the 'grandparenting' route.

The jurisprudence (JRP) module is a learning program designed for adult learners. It presents information about Ontario law, which regulated health professionals need to know in order to practice safely and ethically. The module is divided into 16 'lessons', which can be completed in random order and at different times.

Total time to complete the program is approximately four hours. Each lesson covers a different topic, with question sets appearing at intervals throughout. Information is presented visually on screen and by voiceover (narrator). There is a $60.00 fee to write the e-module.

Before starting the module, prospective members are advised to read the online document Professional Practice and Jurisprudence for Registered Psychotherapists - it provides all the background information required. For those who read the document first, the module will serve mainly as a review of the material.

All applicants will first be asked to create a membership account with the CRPO. The CRPO member account will also be where you check in to conduct business with the transitional Council/College, and where you will find new information and updates about College programs and policies. This is where you will complete and submit your application for registration.
